Living with Difference Short Film Competition – 2015

Short films by and about young adults living with a chronic illness or defining difference

Mission & Objective:

Difference Diaries (a project of the Children of Difference Foundation, a 501c3 nonprofit corporation), is sponsoring the Living With Difference Short Film Competition to encourage open dialogue for young adults, their families and friends living with chronic illness or defining difference.

It is our belief that short films, narrative or documentary, provide filmmakers and their subjects the space to explore issues not otherwise freely discussed, give the public an avenue for exploring and understanding the lives and issues of young adults living with difference and open up important lines of thought and communication around the subject of difference in contemporary society.

About the Competition:

In its inaugural year, this competition is an effort to create momentum and interest in an open, creative, and compelling dialogue around issues facing young adults living with chronic illness or defining difference.

This is a juried competition awarding prizes in two categories: Best Film & Best Film By a Young Adult with Difference. Competitive films will express, explore, explain, illustrate, celebrate or otherwise depict what it is like for young adults to live with chronic illness or defining difference.

- I. Best Film: Prize awarded to the best film that tells the story of a young adult with difference. Producer/Director may be anyone including a friend, sibling, parent, teacher or other person interested in expressing a compelling depiction of life with difference.
- II. Best Film by a Young Adult with Difference: Prize awarded to the best film by and about a young adult living with difference. This film must be substantially produced and directed by a young adult with chronic illness or defining difference who has not attained the age of 25 by February 28, 2015.

The same film may be eligible in both categories and it is at the sole discretion of the committee to categorize your submission. The committee also reserves the right to decline to give the award in a given year.
